The Washington Bicentennial Tree Planting Project

1732-1932

The 200th Anniversary of the Birth of George Washington, First President of the United States, is now under way. It will be observed throughout this entire year. One of the projects designed to honor the illustrious Virginian is the beautification of the land he loved in

THE PLANTING OF TEN MILLION TREES

Washington was a persistent tree planter, as is evidenced by the numerous entries in his diaries and in his correspondence, and also the many stately specimens of trees which he planted, still to be seen at Mount Vernon.

Memorial trees are being planted throughout the United States, singly and in groups, by individuals, welfare and social organizations, schools, churches, classes, garden clubs and municipalities. Each such planting entitles to registration upon an Honor Roll, and a certificate of recognition from the American Tree Association, representing the National Bicentennial Commission. Even the planting of fruit trees, or seedling evergreens, will be counted as a patriotic service.

I shall be glad to secure such certificates whenever they are desired, and offer the following stock at prices appended. A dozen assorted for 10% less. Special prices on large lots.

All stock FOB nursery where grown.
